ALPHABETICAL DIRECTORY

OF THE

OFFICERS AND FELLOWS

WITH

DATE OF ADMISSION, RESIDENCE AND OFFICE ADDRESS

APRIL 1, 1920

ACTIVE AND RETIRED FELLOWS

APRIL 1, 1920

Note.—The date preceding the name is that of admission. A date following, preceded by a †, denotes year of retirement. The first name of city or town is the legal residence; the street and number are the office address.

A letter in place of a given first name not followed by a period is not an initial. It is a letter adopted by the individual instead of a name to distinguish him or her from others, or for the sake of euphony.

The last known address is given in this list.

THE MENACE OF EUROPEAN AND ASIATIC DISEASES.

With the prospect of more extensive commercial relations between the United States and foreign ports we are threatened with an increasing danger of exposure to the diseases which are ravaging the countries of Europe and Asia. On this subject a warning has been issued by Dr. Hugh S. Cumming, Surgeon General of the United States Public Health Service, who has just returned to Washington after two years of careful study of conditions in the Old World. Dr. Cumming has reviewed the situation and emphasized the necessity of taking the utmost precaution against the introduction of disease into the ports of this country.

The epidemic of influenza has been responsible for the loss of millions; scarcely a place in the world escaped infection during 1918-1919. Other epidemic diseases are sweeping through Asia and eastern and central Europe, threatening so to reduce man power that normal and vital industries can not be maintained. Although there are unfortunately no reliable statistics available for the countries which appear to be suffering most, Dr. Cumming has made comparisons to illustrate the human and economic loss due to preventable diseases. In the United States in a normal year, for instance, for each person gainfully employed there is a loss of nine days due to sickness, a large part of it being preventable. There were approximately 290,000 deaths from pneumonia in the United States in 1918. For every death from pneumonia in the United States we count 125 sick days. There were over 13,000 deaths from typhoid fever. A death from typhoid fever corresponds to a loss of from 450 to 500 sick days. There were over 150,000 deaths from tuberculosis. A death from tuberculosis corresponds to slightly more than 500 sick days among whites and slightly less than this among colored. While it is true that these are diseases in which the death rates are high, that is not the chief factor in causing the high economic loss to the world due to a disease in which the mortality rate is low. Although conservative estimates place the number of cases of malaria fever in the United States at above 7,000,000 cases annually, the death rate gives no indication of this high prevalence. Yet each case of malaria fever represents a loss of several working days and a continued lowering of efficiency. If we could eradicate this malaria in the South, and other preventable diseases throughout the nation, the increased efficiency in man-power would far more than offset the loss to the United States due to the war and the influenza epidemic.

In a number of countries of the Old World production has ceased, or become inadequate, as a result of disease. Large fertile areas have not been cultivated since the war; industries are idle, or practically so. In addition to this, we are facing an extensive spread of pestilential diseases; yet these dangerous diseases can be controlled, for we know a great deal about them. Altogether the economic loss is enormous. Typhous fever is spread by the body louse; bubonic plague by the flea-infested rat; malaria fever is spread by a mosquito.

In the tropical countries malaria is more prevalent than it is in the southern part of the United States. It is also more deadly. In some of the West Indies malaria causes one-fifth of the total deaths. The work at Panama and elsewhere has demonstrated how completely malaria can be controlled by properly conducted sanitary operations.

A careful survey made some years ago in the Philippines convinced experts that the efficiency of labor would be increased 30 per cent. by the eradication of hookworm disease. This is fairly indicative of conditions in some other sections of the world where there is a considerable amount of hookworm. The disease is spread by improper disposal of human excreta, and can be controlled and eradicated if health officers can be properly supported in their work.

In 1917 in the British India there were 267,002 deaths from cholera, 62,277 from smallpox, 437,036 from plague and 4,553,221 from "fevers," a large portion of which were due to malaria. All of the diseases named here are preventable. The disease condition is probably as bad today as it was in 1917. One easily can imagine the economic saving to the world if these preventable diseases could feel the force of a joint attack from the nations of the world. Possibly no single factor could help more to restore the world to a normal basis.

But there is another and more important reason why this world disease situation should concern the United States. We must be constantly alert to prevent some of these highly communicable diseases reaching this country. The typhus fever that is raging in Asia and eastern Europe is filtering through into western Europe. It will require the exercise of every precaution to prevent its becoming epidemic in some of the European nations. If that should occur it would be a gigantic task to keep it from reaching the United States.

Even more dangerous, because more infectious, is the spread from one European port to another of bubonic plague. During the past few years plague gradually has invaded one Mediterranean port after another, so that at present there is probably no important port in that sea which does not harbor plague infection. This is really a very serious situation in view of the great increase in commerce which the United States will soon be carrying on with all the European ports. In addition to the regular quarantine officers in various points in Europe, and the United States, the U. S. Public Health Service is now maintaining a number of experienced quarantine officers in various points in Europe, in order to keep the Service advised. We face a trying situation and need to maintain our defensive machinery in the best possible condition.

SOUTH AMERICAN SURGEONS.

It has been the hope and purpose of the organizers and administrators of the American College of Surgeons that eventually all worthy surgeons of the American continents might be included in the Fellowship of the College. A preliminary effort was made during 1914 and 1915 to interest the surgeons of South America by correspondence setting forth the aims and purposes of the College and expressing the hope that the suggestion of affiliation of North and South American surgeons might be cordially received. Plans were made for a visit by representatives of the College to the southern continent in the winter of 1915-1916; this trip was postponed, however, because of the difficulties attending the European War. It was not until the armistice was signed that further thought could be given to the proposed visit to South America.

The disorganization of European educational institutions and the difficulties of travel in Europe immediately after the war seemed to point to that time as particularly opportune for carrying out the original plan of visiting various countries in South America. On January 7, therefore, Dr. William J. Mayo, President, and Dr. Franklin H. Martin, Secretary-General, sailed from New York to make an official visit to Peru, Chile, Argentine, and Uruguay in behalf of the American College of Surgeons. The short time at their disposal and the difficulties of transportation made it impossible to include Brazil and several other countries in their itinerary. Medical schools and hospitals were visited at Lima, Santiago, Valparaiso, Buenos Aires, and Montevideo. The North American surgeons were received most cordially, and a keen interest was manifested by the leading South American surgeons in the American College of Surgeons. There is reason to believe that this visit will prove to be the foundation for the establishment of a more personal friendship between the professions of our two continents.

In an interesting and comprehensive report of this visit to South America, Dr. Martin has written the following account of the medical schools and hospitals which were visited:

"We visited medical schools connected with the national universities at Lima, Santiago, Buenos Aires, and Montevideo. A primary, high school, and university education is required by the medical schools for the admission of students. Peru, Chile, and Argentine require a seven-year course of medicine, while Uruguay requires but six. So far as we could judge them in our cursory visit, the physical properties of each of these four schools were adequate and modern in every detail. Judging from the provision for free hospital beds in so many of the hospitals of the cities in which the schools are situated, which are under the control of the faculties, the clinical material should be abundant. The laws of each of the governments provide for a reasonable distribution of dissecting materials, and postmortems are an accepted requirement. Our opportunity for meeting a strong group of each faculty was most favorable, and if the faculty as a whole approaches in point of ability the members with whom we became acquainted, the faculties are exceptionally strong. While it was vacation time and the medical schools were not operating at full capacity, we had an opportunity of observing and meeting a large number of students and a larger number of recent graduates who were serving as internes in the hospitals, and I am sure we were agreed that in appearance they compared favorably with those of the United States, Canada, and England.

"The leaders of the faculties are men who have supplemented their home training by study in France, Germany, or other foreign countries, while a few have been in the United States. One cannot but realize that these medical schools are built on sound, fundamental bases. However, it was not possible for us in a short visit during the summer vacation season to judge of their present teaching value.

"The hospitals in South America, not unlike the hospitals in other civilized portions of the world, may be divided into several classes. One of the objects of our trip was to obtain a bird's-eye view of the hospitals in the cities we visited. We passed through, very hurriedly, of course, a number of the principal hospitals in each of the capitals, and Valparaiso and a few other cities. With only minor exceptions, they all had suitable buildings and interiors, and opened onto extensive and attractive gardens or patios. Without exception, I believe all of them have a system of case records, and the average of completeness in this respect was above that found in the United States. Everywhere working laboratories, including x-ray outfits, were in evidence and were pointed to with pride. The operating rooms, with but few exceptions, were modern, and contained the most approved sterilizing apparatus. Conveniences for diagnostic purposes, and instruments for operating rooms were in abundance. Nearly all had provision for postmortems, and up-to-date morgues. The provision for graduate internes seemed to be adequate, especially in those hospitals connected with teaching institutions. Nearly all of the large hospitals had rather complete out-door dispensary departments. Some of the hospitals were deficient in modern plumbing. However, a large percentage of the important hospitals were elaborately equipped with these conveniences. Some had the most approved hydrotherapeutic departments, and modern laundries and kitchens were in evidence in nearly all of the larger institutions. The hospitals which did not have the full equipment as enumerated above were not a few, but nearly all of these are in line for a rapid readjustment. Especially is this true since their teachers are thoroughly alive to the requirements of a modern hospital.

"Two defects which were evident in nearly all of the hospitals visited and which appealed to us as rather easy to remedy were the lack of screening against flies, mosquitoes, and other insects, and a well organized system of nursing. The former of these will soon be remedied, and the latter is a difficult problem with which the faculties are wrestling. It was not a defect pointed out by us, but was freely admitted by our hosts."

There was manifested by the surgeons of South America a genuine desire to coöperate and become affiliated in the work of the American College of Surgeons. In the various cities visited the names of eminent South American surgeons were recommended for Fellowship in the College, and it is to be hoped that a closer personal and professional relationship may be established between surgeons of North and South America by their affiliation with the American College of Surgeons.

THE VALUE OF NITROUS-OXIDE-OXYGEN ANAESTHESIA IN MILITARY AND CIVILIAN PRACTICE.

Our attention has been called to two interesting addresses on related subjects, one by Dr. George W. Crile of Cleveland before the seventy-third annual meeting of the Ohio State Medical Association, and the other by Dr. Addison G. Prenizer of Charlotte, North Carolina, at a meeting of the Southern Medical Association. Both of these addresses give evidence of the value of nitrous-oxide-oxygen anesthesia in military and in civilian practice. Dr. Crile has emphasized the value of anociation in reducing operative mortality, and has stated that the Interallied Surgical Conference adopted as one of its conclusions that in the treatment of wounded soldiers the anaesthetic of choice is nitrous-oxide-oxygen combined with local anaesthesia. In support of this view the following experiences of Captain Gregory Marshall, Chief of the Anaesthetic Service of the British Army, and of Captain Douglas C. Taylor, a British military surgeon, have been mentioned.

Until the summer of 1917, Captain Marshall invariably gave ether for Dr. Taylor's laparotomies for gun-shot wounds of the abdomen, with a result that no series of one hundred consecutive cases showed a recovery rate of much over fifty per cent. During the summer and autumn of 1917 Captain Taylor did one hundred and one laparotomies for abdominal wounds, and nearly half of them were given nitrous oxide and oxygen combined with infiltration of the abdominal wall with eucain and novocain. The more serious cases, those with rapid pulse and low pressure, were nearly all operated by this method. Of this series, twenty-seven died at the Casualty Clearing Station, and seventy-four were evacuated to the Base; of the latter there have been only two deaths, both from secondary hemorrhage, one from the kidney and the other from the rectum and buttock. By the employment of anociation, therefore, Captain Taylor's mortality rate was reduced from approximately fifty per cent. to twenty-nine per cent.

The experience on a large scale of the resuscitation teams from the Lakeside Unit which served continuously throughout Field Marshal Haig's great offensives in Flanders in 1917, during which there were over 800,000 casualties, showed that in abdominal operations somewhat better results were obtained if, before the beginning of the operation sufficient blood were transfused to permit a safe performance of the operation; and again at the completion of the operation an ample amount of blood up to 750 c.c. were given. Furthermore, if a let-down appeared later, the transfusion might be repeated. Meanwhile the advantages of comfort, rest, warmth, morphia and fluids were added.

The advantages of the nerve-blocking are further emphasized by Colonel Cabot's series of 180 amputations of the thigh, one-half under ether, and one-half under spinal anaesthesia with a reduction of mortality by the use of spinal anaesthesia of 50 per cent.

In reporting his experiences with anaesthesia in war surgery, Dr. Prenizer, formerly Chief of Surgical Service, Base Hospital No. 6, A. E. F., has stated that Colonel Cabot's series was used only between September 10 and November 14, 1918, not because the surgical staff did not prefer it, but because the Unit was late in receiving its apparatus and was not able to secure more gas when the first supply was exhausted. During a period of sixty-five days, a total of nine hundred and eight anaesthesias were given as follows: ether, 473; nitrous-oxide-oxygen, 341; local, 87; chloroform, 7. Ether was used more frequently than other anaesthetics; there were a number of infiltration anaesthesias with novocaine and cocaine; little chloroform was used. Ethyl chloride was rarely used as a general anaesthetic, although it was used locally for small incisions. There was but one death which could be attributed to an anaesthetic and that was a death from chloroform in unskilled hands.

Dr. Prenizer believes that the tranquility of the patient, the rapidity and ease of induction, the rapidity and safety of recovery, give nitrous-oxide-oxygen quite an advantage over the other anesthetics in the first and second stages of anaesthesia, especially in cases where an absolute relaxation is not needed. Even when ether is superimposed for deeper anaesthesia, the amount is reduced to a minimum to maintain the period of relaxation.

The types of cases where gas-oxygen was found to be most valuable included shock cases, cases where operation was to be of short duration, cases where the condition was profoundly bad and the post-operative period treacherous, chest cases, with the exception of those liable to show hemorrhage, and infection of the respiratory tract. Gas-oxygen is of great value in war surgery since the greater number of delayed primary and secondary suture of wounds can be made with the use of this anesthetic alone. Dr. Prenizer mentions three special advantages of gas-oxygen in war surgery: (1) the ease and rapidity of inducing anaesthesia, thus preventing a struggle, enabling the immediate beginning of the preparation of the field of operation and the carrying on of several parallel operations without the one disturbing or distressing the other; (2) rapid recovery and rapid exchange of patients between operating room and ward; (3) the relief from the care of recovering patients on the wards and the consequent liberation of the personnel for other duties. All these points are important when one considers the large number of secondary wound closures—often as many as sixty in a single day. The comfort of the patient is also a decided advantage. There was no death nor injury from this anaesthetic.

WESTWARD MIGRATION OF INDIGENT TUBERCULOUS PERSONS.

It is a common and fallacious belief held by hundreds of tuberculous persons that the climate of Denver is so favorable to the cure of tuberculosis that the mere being there, even if without funds, will bring relief to the sufferers. Our attention has been called to the Denver Anti-Tuberculosis Society to the disastrous results of this belief. It has been estimated by the United States Public Health Service that at least four hundred tuberculous persons go to Denver each year without sufficient money for adequate treatment. They arrive at their destination, often penniless and without having made any inquiries or provisions for their needs, expecting to maintain themselves by some sort of light work. To find such work, however, or work of any kind for a person with active tuberculosis, is practically impossible, as the demand for it is always many times greater than the supply.

Since Colorado has no state tuberculosis sanatorium and Denver has no such municipal institution, the care of these persons is limited to the following places, which are so overtaxed continuously that it is a long and difficult matter to gain admittance. There are two free Jewish sanatoria with a capacity of one hundred and fifty beds each, which accept a certain proportion of Gentiles. Patients must apply from their place of departure, and await notification before going to Denver. The waiting lists are always long, and it is usually months before an applicant can be admitted. The County Hospital and the County Poor Farm have a combined capacity of fifty-nine beds. Only those persons having at least one year's legal residence in Denver are eligible for admission. There is also a small home for a dozen destitute women, and a small tent colony for indigent tuberculous men, located on the outskirts of the city and maintained by public subscription.

The tuberculous person who seeks to regain his health in Denver should have sufficient funds for at least two year's good care. A few weeks or months in a lodging-house, or even in a sanatorium, seldom result in any lasting benefit, and often are merely a waste of time and money. Plenty of good food, rest, fresh air, and medical attention are absolutely necessary for recovery, and must be continued over a sufficient length of time to secure an arrest or a cure. A person without funds can not be provided with these essentials; the resultant anxiety, homesickness, hopelessness, and desperate necessity of working before he is able, especially if he has a dependent family, usually lead to a breakdown far more serious than the original condition.

A number of communities in different parts of the country are now making an earnest effort to control tuberculosis among the indigent and those without sufficient funds. It is to be hoped that more states will awaken to their individual responsibilities and will build state sanatoria with capacity to care for all their indigent tuberculous. In the meantime, every effort should be made to dissuade indigent tuberculous persons from undertaking the disastrous journey to Denver; for although a favorable climate may facilitate cure, the patient who is unable to pay for food, rest, and proper care in Denver and can obtain them at home, has a better chance of recovering if he remains where he is.

MEDICAL MISSIONARY WORK IN CHINA.

AN interesting account of medical missionary work at a frontier station in China is given in a issue of "Fenchow," a Chinese magazine published at Fenchow in the province of Shansi. In Fenchow there has been established a missionary outpost, where a hospital of considerable importance and an active staff care for the health of the natives in far-away China. Dr. Percy T. Watson, head of the medical group in Fenchow, has outlined some of the phases of the work.

One of the diseases of most serious proportions is smallpox, which is endemic to such an extent, that practically all who have not been vaccinated contract the disease. Inoculation is practiced, for which human serum is used; although vaccination protects the natives for a considerable period of time, it is usually necessary to repeat it after a number of years have elapsed. It is said that in China a woman does not count her children until after they all have had smallpox.

In dealing with diseases among the natives of China one of the most serious obstacles to be overcome is the fatalism of the people. In a city attacked by pneumonic plague, for instance, the mortality in the past has been not far from one hundred per cent. among those having the disease, a fact which may be due in part to the prevalent belief that if the time has come to die nothing can be done to prevent it and the inevitable may as well be accepted without any particular struggle. In the outbreak of 1918, however, efforts were made to combat this doctrine by educating the people. More modern methods, such as the wearing of masks, began to replace the practice of putting scissiors in the doorways to warn the demons or to cut them in two. Careful search was made for every focus of infection, and such districts were put into immediate communication with the rest of the province. An arrangement was made whereby the whole telephone system was open every morning at the time when reports were given in headquarters in order that the reports of his associates might be available to any doctor. In the education of the people thousands of dollars were expended on literature. It is a serious work which is undertaken by the medical missionaries of China, not only in administering to the sufferers but also in training natives to assist them in carrying on the work. It is for the interest of America to answer the call for further support in fighting the plagues in the distant lands where they are endemic.

THE LONGEVITY OF PHYSICIANS.

WHILE it is unfortunately true that the average expectation of life of physicians is not high, the fact remains true that of recent years a number of physicians have shown remarkable longevity, notable in the case of the oldest living graduates of Harvard College, several of whom in the past few years have been physicians. A year ago the oldest living graduate was Dr. Nicholas E. Soule, '45, of Exeter, New Hampshire. He was succeeded by Mr. Charles French, who has just died, on March 25, in his ninety-fourth year.

It is interesting to note that now, for the second time within a period of about a year, it is again a physician, Dr. Horatio Robinson Storer, who survives as the oldest living graduate of Harvard College. Dr. Storer was born in Boston on February 27, 1830, the son of Dr. D. Humphreys Storer. After graduating from Harvard with the class of 1850, he went to Europe for further study and for a year assisted Sir James Simpson of Edinburgh, the discoverer of chloroform. After four years abroad, Dr. Storer returned to America, and made widely known the uses of chloroform in this country. He became particularly interested in the modern methods of treating diseases of women; his work in this field became so widely recognized that he was made an honorary member of medical societies in all parts of the world. It was Dr. Storer who founded and for a long time was the editor of The Boston Journal of Gynecology, the first medical periodical in the world devoted entirely to diseases of women. Dr. Storer has been particularly interested in collecting medals which have any bearing on medical science; a collection of twenty-five hundred of these was presented by him to the Boston Medical Society.

In 1872 Dr. Storer became infected while operating, and although he spent five years in Europe endeavoring to regain his health, it availed but little. In 1877 he made his home in Newport, Rhode Island, where he still lives, taking an active interest in every sort of problem.

BIOGRAPHY OF SIR WILLIAM OSLER.

LADY OSLER has requested me to prepare a biography of her husband, and I will be most grateful to anyone who chances to see this note, for any letters or personal reminiscences, or for information concerning others who may possibly supply letters.

Copies of all letters, no matter how brief, are requested, and if dates are omitted it is hoped that they may be supplied if possible.

If the originals are forwarded for copy they will be promptly returned.

HARVEY CUSHING, M.D.,
Peter Bent Brigham Hospital,
Boston, Mass.

REGISTERED PHYSICIAN IN AVON, MASSACHUSETTS.

IN the issue of the JOURNAL for March 25, 1920, in an editorial entitled "The Problem of the Community without a Physician," it was stated that there are at the present time in Massachusetts seventy-three towns without a registered physician. We regret exceedingly that there was erroneously included in this list the town of Avon, Massachusetts, which has a registered practicing physician, Richard E. Elliott, M.D.

MEDICAL NOTES.

ELECTION OF DR. W. S. HALSTEAD.—It has been announced that Dr. W. S. Halstead, of the Johns Hopkins University, has been elected to honorary foreign membership in the Royal Academy of Medicine of Belgium.

RESIGNATION OF DR. GEORGE BLUMER.—Dr. George Blumer has resigned from the Yale School of Medicine, after serving for thirteen years as professor of medicine and ten years as dean.

AWARD OF THE CHRISTIAN FENGER FELLOWSHIP.—The Christian Fenger Fellowship has been awarded to Dr. Harry Culver, of the University of Illinois Medical School, for the year 1920. Dr. Culver will continue his studies on infection of the kidneys.

THE REGIUS CHAIR OF MEDICINE AT OXFORD.—Sir Archibald E. Garrod, K.C.M.G., M.D., F.R.S., has been appointed Regius Professor of Medicine in the University of Oxford, to succeed the late Sir William Osler. The British Medical Journal contains the following mention of his medical achievement:

We congratulate Oxford on securing for its chair of medicine so distinguished a scientific physician, and a teacher held in such affection by his pupils. Sir Archibald Garrod is physician to St. Bartholomew's Hospital and consulting physician to the Hospital for Sick Children, Great Ormond Street. He served during the war as consulting physician to the Mediterranean Forces with the rank of Temporary Colonel, A.M.S., and after his return was appointed director of the newly formed medical "element" in the clinical teaching unit at St. Bartholomew's. He was Bradshaw lecturer in 1900 and Croonian lecturer in 1908 at the Royal College of Physicians of London, and was elected a Fellow of the Royal Society ten years ago, largely in recognition of his work in chemical pathology. In 1914 he gave the address in medicine at the annual meeting of the British Medical Association at Aberdeen, and received the LL.D. of that University honoris causa. His war services were rewarded with the C.M.G., and later the knighthood of the same order; and the University of Malta conferred on him the honorary M.D. degree.

APPOINTMENT OF DR. G. CANBY ROBINSON.—Dr. G. Canby Robinson has resigned as dean of Washington University Medical School, St. Louis, to become dean and professor of medicine in Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn.

MEMORIAL TO SIR WILLIAM OSLER.—It was decided at a public meeting held at Oxford University to form as a permanent memorial to the late Sir William Osler the "Osler Institute of General Pathology and Preventive Medicine."

HONORARY ELECTIONS FOR AMERICAN PHYSICIANS.—The Royal College of Surgeons of England has elected as honorary fellows Professor J. M. T. Finney of the Johns Hopkins University and Dr. Charles H. Mayo of Rochester, Minn.

APPOINTMENT OF PROFESSORS IN GERMANY.—It has been reported that in the appointment of professors to German universities, precedence is being given at the present time to university teachers who have left towns which have passed out of Germany's possessions. In accordance with this principle, Professor Hugo Fuchs, recently appointed anatomist at Königsberg, has been transferred to Göttingen.

TUBERCULOSIS IN RESIDENTIAL INSTITUTIONS.—The British Medical Journal states that at a conference of medical superintendents of sanatoria, training colonies, and hospitals for tuberculosis, held in London, it was decided to form a new society for the advancement of the standards and the improvement of the methods of administration, diagnosis, and treatment of tuberculosis in residential institutions. Membership in this society is to be limited to medical men and women whose duties consist for the most part in the medical management of residential institutions mainly devoted to the treatment of tuberculosis. Associate members may be elected from among those who have held such positions at some time and from present junior officers of such institutions. The society will hold quarterly meetings.

DRUG PRICE CHANGES.—A report issued on March 25 states that during the week drug prices tended to be higher. Manufacturers have advanced carboys. Denatured and wood alcohols are higher, as well as citric and tartaric acids, caffeine, terpin hydrate, quicksilver, and blueflag root. Antipyrine, bayberry bark, colchicum, althea and blood root, arnica flowers, agar-agar and bayberry wax are lower.

NEW YORK CLINIC FOR DRUG ADDICTS.—The health department clinic for drug addicts in New York has been closed because the number of persons being treated has fallen below one hundred. The city's registration bureau, which has been operated in connection with the clinic, is to be continued, and the drug clinic will be reopened if the number of drug addicts increases. Between six and seven thousand addicts have received treatment at the clinic during the last year. Dr. Copeland, Health Commissioner of New York, is reported to have stated that the United States imports fifteen times as much opium per capita as any other nation and that ninety per cent. of that imported is sold unlawfully.

INTERNATIONAL SOCIETY OF SURGERY.—The following announcement of the programme of the meeting of the International Society of Surgery, to be held in Paris on July 19 to July 23, has been published in the British Medical Journal:

In the discussion of the surgery of the heart and great vessels M. Tuffier (Paris) will deal with the heart, M. Sencert (Strasbourg) with the great vessels, and M. Jembraux (Montpellier) with the transfusion of blood. The discussion on treatment of tumours by x-rays and radium will be opened by M. Régaud of Paris, and Dr. N. S. Finzi of London. The discussion on analysis of the blood and biological reactions in surgical affections will be opened by Drs. A. Depage and Goovaerts of Brussels. In opening the discussion on fractures of the thigh Major Maurice Sinclair, C.M.G., D.S.O., R.A.M.C., will be associated with M. Patel of Lyons, and in that on the prophylaxis and treatment of tetanus Colonel Cummins, C.B., C.M.G., A.M.S., will be associated with M. Donati of Modena. Professor W. W. Keen of Philadelphia will preside over the meeting, and the names of American contributors to the discussions will be announced later.

REDUCTION OF MORTALITY FROM TYPHUS FEVER.—A report of conditions in Russia states that the mortality from typhus fever has been reduced from forty-seven per cent. to six per cent. by the use of a new serum adopted by Red Cross workers at Ekaterinodar, on the Kuban district of Russia. It is hoped that this serum may save Russia from decimation by typhus.

TYPHUS FEVER IN POLAND.—A recent report of the typhus situation in Poland states that there are 230,000 cases of typhus in Poland at the present time, and that ninety-five per cent. of the population are suffering from the disease. Poland possesses the finest sterilizing equipment in the world, as several hundred steam sterilizing machines were sold to that country by the United States after the war. The Polish government is unable to make use of this equipment because of the lack of money with which to buy coal, and American relief organizations have not been in a position to take over the work.

PROPOSED NEW LIBRARY BUILDING AT JOHNS HOPKINS.—Plans are being considered at Johns Hopkins University for the erection of a new library building to include under one roof the libraries of the hospital, the school of hygiene, and the medical school.

HONORARY DEGREE FOR PROFESSOR ANTON J. CARLSON.—It has been announced that an honorary medical degree has been conferred by the University of Lund, Sweden, on Professor Anton J. Carlson, chairman of the department of Physiology of the University of Chicago. Professor Carlson has been elected also a corresponding member of the French Biological Society.

RESIGNATION OF DR. GEORGE BLUMER.—After serving for thirteen years as a professor of medicine at Yale University, Dr. George Blumer, dean of the Yale School of Medicine, has resigned.

GIFT TO AMERICAN HOSPITAL AT NEUILLY.—In memory of her late husband, Colonel Robert Bacon, Mrs. Bacon has placed at the disposal of the Trustees of the American Hospital in Paris the sum of 4,946,000 francs, to be devoted to the endowment of twenty-four beds in free wards of the new American Hospital which is to be built at Neuilly. Colonel Bacon was President of the American Hospital, and took a great interest in its welfare. The remainder of one of the war funds, 750,000 francs, has been transferred to the building fund of this hospital, the sum to insure erection of that part of the building which will be devoted to the free wards endowed in memory of Colonel Bacon.

ANTI-MALARIAL WORK IN DALLAS, TEXAS.—A recent Public Health Report describes the anti-malarial work which has been carried on in Dallas, Texas. The work was begun in May, 1916. During the first year, creeks and natural water courses were brushed, channeled, and drained, pools of water were drained, and oil operations were begun for the prevention of mosquito breeding in places where it was not prevented otherwise. In order to mold public opinion and secure the best possible coöperation an educational campaign was conducted. During the season of 1916 the work covered an area of approximately six square miles, and included the brushing, ditching, and oiling of thirty miles of stream. The actual cost per capita for 1916, on the basis of a population of 140,000, was two cents. The total area under control during the season of 1919 was 10.5 square miles, and included the maintenance and oiling of forty-five miles of creeks and ditches. The per capita cost for 1919 was 2.54 cents on the basis of a population of 168,000. In measuring the results of this anti-malarial work, the following figures are significant:

During the twelve-month period ended Aug. 31, 1916, 27 deaths from malaria were reported in Dallas. As stated in this report, malaria-control work was begun on May 9, 1916. For the succeeding twelve-month periods since 1916 the mortality figures are: 1917, 9 deaths; 1918, 11 deaths; 1919, 6 deaths.

These reductions in malaria deaths have taken place despite the increase in population of the city from 140,000 in 1916 to 170,000 in 1919. Averaging the malaria deaths for the past three years, therefore, it is apparent that the death rate in Dallas has been reduced from 19.3 per 100,000 in 1916 to an average of 5.4 per 100,000 since 1916. This is a reduction of 72 per cent.

These figures give ample evidence of the value of anti-malarial work to any community.

ELECTION OF DR. JOHN J. ABEL.—Dr. John J. Abel, professor of pharmacology at the Johns Hopkins University, has been elected an associate member of the Royal Society of the Medical and Natural Sciences of Brussels.

MEMORIAL MEETING TO DR. HORATIO C. WOOD.—At a special meeting of the College of Physicians of Philadelphia held on March 19 as a memorial to Dr. Horatio C. Wood, Dr. George E. de Schweinitz read a memoir to Dr. Wood, Dr. Hobart A. Hare read a paper entitled "Recollections of a Pioneer in Pharmacology in the United States," Dr. Francis X. Dereum, "An Appreciation," and Dr. Charles K. Mills, "Reminiscences, Chiefly Neurological and Medico-Legal."

HONORARY ELECTION OF PROFESSOR WARREN H. LEWIS.—The Society of Medicine of Gand has elected as an honorary member Professor Warren H. Lewis of the Johns Hopkins Medical School.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF ANATOMISTS.—The program of the meeting of the American Association of Anatomists held at the National Museum, Washington, D. C., from April 1 to 3, included about fifty papers and fifty demonstrations.

COMBATING TYPHUS IN SIBERIA.—The difficulties of combating typhus in Siberian regions have been described by Dr. Henry W. Newman, who for the past two years has been struggling with this disease as a Red Cross representative in Western Siberia. When temperatures reached thirty and forty degrees below zero, refugees crowded into box cars, freight cars, railroad stations and abandoned sheds and buildings of all descriptions. In one old machine shop, two hundred spent their days and nights. Attempts to transfer them to more sanitary quarters were regarded with suspicion and it was only after force of arms had been threatened that more than twenty of the two hundred could be persuaded to submit to medicated baths to prevent the spread of the disease. The group was finally housed in new quarters, and under the more favorable conditions their health was so much improved that within a year every one had been able to undertake some self-supporting work.

ELECTIONS TO THE PARIS ACADEMY OF MEDICINE.—Dr. Léon Barnard, Professor of Hygiene in the faculty of medicine, Paris, has been elected a member of the Academy of Medicine. Dr. Barnard is a well-known writer on the subject of tuberculosis. Dr. Lesbre, of Lyons, and Dr. Lignières, of Buenos Aires, have been elected correspondents.

MAGIC AND MEDICINE IN EARLY ENGLAND.—The following interesting account of an address on "Magic and Medicine in Early England," given by Dr. Charles Singer before a meeting of the British Academy, has appeared in an issue of The Medical Press and Circular:

Having alluded to the Dark Ages, when the supposed possession by persons of magical powers had the greatest possible influence over those of lower culture, the lecturer referred to charms and amulets, the use of some of which still survived in certain districts, where they were worn for the cure of dropsy, ague, and other complaints, some of which were attributed to the worm or serpent.

Rules of health were quoted from old missals, psalters, and liturgical books, and in the course of his address Dr. Singer narrated how in later times, when Lord Chief Justice Holt was an undergraduate, finding himself without money, he obtained a week's lodging free by giving his landlady a magical prescription, consisting of a few Greek words scribbled on a piece of paper, to be placed under the pillow as a cure for ague. Some years afterwards, when presiding at the assizes, a woman was brought before the Chief Justice on a charge of pretending to cure disease by means of a magical parchment. When the paper which formed the basis of the indictment was handed to the Bench it was found to contain the Greek words written by the judge in his college days. The woman was acquitted, and she was the last person to be prosecuted for witchcraft in this country.

AWARD OF THE STRAITS SETTLEMENT MEDAL.—The Straits Settlement gold medal has been awarded by the senate of the University of Glasgow to Professor R. T. Leiper, reader in helminthology in the University of London. Some years ago this medal was founded by Scottish medical practitioners in the Malay States, and it is given periodically to a graduate in medicine of the Scottish universities for a thesis on a subject of tropical medicine.

APPOINTMENT OF DR. ROBERT W. HEGNER.—It has been announced that Dr. Robert W. Hegner, associate professor of protozoölogy in charge of the department of medical zoölogy in the School of Hygiene and Public Health, has been appointed from the Johns Hopkins University to attend the Congress of the Royal Institute of Public Health in Brussels from May 20 to May 24, 1920. "The Relation of Medical Zoölogy to Public Health Problems" will be the subject of the paper to be read by Dr. Hegner at the Congress. He expects to study at the Liverpool and London Schools of Tropical Medicine during the months of June, July, and August.

DESTRUCTION OF VALUABLE DATA BY FIRE.—The data and records made during two years of research in the cause and effect of influenza by Dr. Thomas M. Rivers were destroyed at a recent fire at Johns Hopkins University. The laboratories of Dr. Bayne Jones and Dr. Lloyd D. Felton, containing apparatus and data of considerable value, were also destroyed.

NEW ENGLAND NOTES.

OLDEST PHYSICIAN IN NEW ENGLAND.—The oldest medical practitioner in New England, Dr. William M. Parsons of Manchester, New Hampshire, has observed his ninety-fourth birthday. During the day he attended to patients in his office as usual. Dr. Parsons was born in Gilmanton in 1825 and has practised in Manchester since 1875. He served as physician for the board of health for twelve years and performed heroic service during the epidemic of smallpox in 1900. Dr. Parsons maintains a summer residence at Gilmanton, and takes a keen interest in many activities.

WAR RELIEF FUNDS.—The following contributions have been acknowledged by New England War Relief Funds:

French Orphanage Fund$575,654.18
Fund for Devastated France .. 190,789.60

SCARLET FEVER AT BROWN UNIVERSITY.—Because of an outbreak of scarlet fever among the students, it was decided to close Brown University on March 25 until April 8. Twenty-three students are being cared for at the Providence City Hospital, as the college has no hospital facilities of its own. Students have been sent to their homes, and there is to be no quarantine at the college. The outbreak is thought to be due to the food supply. With one exception the cases have been of a mild type. As a precautionary measure, the health authorities of every town and city to which students are returning will be notified of the conditions under which the University has suspended activities and will be furnished with the names and addresses of the students.

BOSTON AND MASSACHUSETTS.

THE CENTRAL NEW ENGLAND SANATORIUM AT RUTLAND.—The Rutland Private Sanatorium, situated in the geographical center of Massachusetts, has been incorporated as the Central New England Sanatorium and is being equipped as rapidly as possible for the vocational training of returned soldiers, sailors, and marines who are suffering from tuberculosis. Classes are already in operation and nearly a hundred disabled men are at Rutland taking advantage of the excellent treatment and training which the sanatorium affords. Government instructors are teaching subjects which are believed to be for the best interests of those men who are looking forward anxiously to new fields of occupation. The sum of ten thousand dollars has been appropriated for the equipment of a special school for the vocational training of disabled service men. The workshop, where many patients have regained their ability to earn a livelihood through the handicraft of various kinds which has been taught them, has not now adequate facilities for this additional training; a new building, therefore, is to be erected as soon as sufficient funds make it possible, and a trade school, carried on by experts in trade studies, will be established. This school will afford to soldier patients the opportunity of rehabilitation under the best conditions. The Red Cross has made a gift of twenty-five thousand dollars to be used without restriction in carrying out this project.

LYNN DEATH RATE.—A report issued by the health commissioner of Lynn shows that the death rate in that city during February of this year increased by nearly one hundred per cent. over that of the same month in 1919. During February, 1920, 224 persons died from various causes, particularly influenza, while in the same month last year 131 deaths were recorded. Of the 224 deaths reported for this year, 97 included persons of more than fifty years of age. Influenza was the cause of 58 deaths, and pneumonia 41. In January, 1920, 121 persons died as compared with 165 for the same month last year. The report on scarlet fever cases indicates that the spread of this disease occurred chiefly in neighborhoods rather than in school-houses.

MEETING OF THE MASSACHUSETTS HOMEOPATHIC MEDICAL SOCIETY.—The eightieth annual session of the Massachusetts Homeopathic Medical Society was held on April 14 at the Massachusetts Homeopathic Hospital in Boston. This Society comprises three geographical districts: the Boston, the Western Massachusetts, and the Worcester districts. During the morning session special clinical demonstrations were held in various departments of the hospital and the out-patient department. Cases of particular interest were presented and methods of treatment explained. At the Robinson Memorial, the maternity department, a special ante-natal clinic was held and methods for determining acidosis shown. In the amphitheatre of the out-patient department methods of taking blood for examination were demonstrated by Dr. Watters, and methods of using radium, the ultra violet ray, and the portable x-ray machine were explained. The usual surgical clinics at the hospital were held for those especially interested.

At the afternoon session of the Society the following papers were read: 1, "The Relation of Certain Factors of Hospital Administration to the Professional Work," H. M. Pollock, M.D., superintendent of Massachusetts Homeopathic Hospital; 2 "Gastric Ulcer," presentation of cases, Charles T. Howard, M.D., surgeon Massachusetts Homeopathic Hospital; 3, "Focal Infection: Some Complications and Sequelae," clinical demonstration, W. F. Phillips, M.D., physician Massachusetts Homeopathic Hospital. At 6.30 p.m., there was a dinner at Young's Hotel. Address, "The Democratization of Medical Practice," Wesley T. Lee, M.D.; address, Lieutenant Governor Cox.

SCARLET FEVER IN BOSTON.—Scarlet fever has been more prevalent in Boston this year than for the corresponding period of the last two years. The records show that there have been 828 cases and 25 deaths up to the present time, compared with 480 cases and 11 deaths in the same period last year. Because of the prevalence of the disease, the health department has sent more than twenty thousand circular letters to physicians, parents and school teachers, warning them to take all precautions against the disease. These circulars, signed by Dr. Woodward, Health Commissioner, read as follows:

"Scarlet fever in a mild form is prevalent in and about Boston. Children apparently slightly ill are at times found later to have scarlet fever. Such mild cases often spread the disease before the real character of the illness is discovered.

"If your child has a sore throat, fever, vomiting, or other indefinite symptoms at this season of the year or has a rash of any kind, do not call it stomach rash, canker rash, heat rash, or treat it lightly, but think of scarlet fever. If a child shows any of the above mentioned symptoms, isolate it at once as it may possibly have scarlet fever and should be seen by a physician.

Mild scarlet fever is a very dangerous and treacherous disease and may develop serious complications

"Scarlet fever is very catching in the first week of the disease, when a child is just developing the disease; therefore, immediately isolate children with indefinite symptoms and you will help to prevent others from catching scarlet fever."

CHILD HEALTH CONDITIONS IN BOSTON.—An analysis of the Public Health Index, the official record of the Federal Government on health conditions in the larger cities, has been made by Dr. Robert D. Curtis. The Index shows that in spite of the increased mortality rate during 1918-1919, due to the influenza epidemic, child health conditions in Boston have been far above the average during the year. Diarrheal diseases reached the lowest summer mark in Boston's history last year. As one of the chief factors in bringing this about, Dr. Curtis has praised the work of the Baby Hygiene Association, which operates twenty stations in various sections of the city. In discussing the improvement in the local health conditions, Dr. Curtis has pointed out that Boston is now being rewarded for its careful work in caring for children of pre-school age.

Previously, the efforts of the welfare associations were directed to the care of the child during the liquid-food period. As soon as the baby went on a solid-food diet, it was forgotten until it appeared in the public schools. The result was an abnormally large number of children in the schools, with well developed tonsil trouble, or with tuberculosis.

As long as the child was able to describe its aches and pains, home remedies were resorted to and the attention of a physician was not sought until some visible bodily defect was noticed. As a result, the children were entering school with diseased or deformed bodies. This led to an inevitable result—a deficient intellect.

During the past three years several clinics for children between the ages of one and six years have been established by the Baby Hygiene Association. During the past year more than 900 children were treated at these stations. This supplement to the general child-welfare work of the Association has resulted in turning sickly babies into healthy, hardy childhood. The public school teacher has received a pupil well prepared to take up its work.

There is now no excuse for the delivery of a sickly or deformed child to the public schools. Through the machinery of the Baby Hygiene Association every child in Boston can receive the examination of a trained corps of physicians and nurses. The best medical skill in the city is at the disposal of the parents. Proper diet is prescribed; proper clothing taught to the mothers; simple but necessary operations, to make the little body healthy and hardy, are arranged for and performed. Every baby in Boston needs some of this attention to carry it through the critical pre-school period, to make it a bright, healthy, happy child, properly fitted to take up its training for valuable citizenship.

WEEK'S DEATH RATE IN BOSTON.—During the week ending April 3, 1920, the number of deaths reported was 209 against 240 last year, with a rate of 13.48 against 15.71 last year. There were 38 deaths under one year of age against 35 last year.

Included in the above, were the following cases of non-residents: Diphtheria, 2; scarlet fever, 5; measles, 1; whooping cough, 1; tuberculosis, 6.

It is announced that Dr. Flattery has expressed his intention of endowing foundations for the purpose of special study towards the prevention of diseases and preservation of health at a number of medical schools where adequate laboratory facilities already exist throughout the United States and in Europe.

APPETITE VERSUS THERAPEUTICS

Cambridge, 24 March, 1920.

Mr. Editor:

Inadvertently, we may presume, your clinically experienced correspondent whose letter ament the supposed bedside use of alcohol appears in the JOURNAL (March 18) in reply to my previous letter captioned "Appetite Versus Therapeutics" (19 February, 1920) helps to corroborate my claim therein that "the flu-bug itself is not more elusive than the physician who will explain for what and why he prescribes the substance." Says Doctor Beverley Robinson, "To many practitioners of medicine of high clinical attainment, no agent is so valuable as alcohol in the treatment of many threatening acute diseases." The remainder of his brief letter is made up mostly of the further generality that laboratory findings are of little account in practical medicine. An unfortunate misprint of some kind renders doubtful the meaning of two sentences: "There are men who have followed science closely in medicine, so far as maybe, and hold it compatible with the best care of patients. Beyond a limited degree its teaching is illusory and vain." But the rest is plain enough.

With such an excellent opportunity and with so surprising an amount of clinical human benefit to accrue, it is rather strange that your experienced correspondent did not explain for what and why he prescribes alcohol in clinical medicine. The failure of laboratory medicine to make good all-round physicians only puts a still more insistent burden on the conscience of those who have the experience never, let us hope, "faulty or pernicious," as he might say. Hardly ever.

The late Professor Abraham Jacobi of New York (born in Prussia in 1830 and in detention in Berlin and Cologne as a German revolutionist and for high treason 1851-53; see Who's Who) was perhaps the most famous children's clinician accustomed to stand up for alcohol even after it was medically down. In the New York Times for September second, 1917, in the course of a short article (sent broadcast as a pamphlet afterwards by some one or other), he writes this:—

"Alcohol preparations, always taking small doses for granted, are good stomachics; that is, they aid you in your digestion. Mr. Beverley Robinson tells us in a recent interview that he takes, and requires a small dose of diluted whisky with his meal. From three to six ounces of a mild wine will render the same service. One-third of that I took once a day until half a year ago, and shall be pleased to return to that when my objections to it shall have been removed. Maybe other people, of different sex or age or disposition, will require another dose, larger or more frequently. And those who are forbidden by their health, or ill health, kidney troubles, or 'hardening arteries,' will be guided by their contradictory indications.

We doctors are wrought up about the subject of alcohol, always were, and now more so since, we have been officially told that we must shun prescribing alcohol in any shape. We were always of the opinion that alcohol was to be shunned as the cause of arteriosclerosis, cirrhosis of the liver, delirium tremens, poverty, and immorality; but what is worse, and you may have been told, alcohol has been held up to me and my 150,000 colleagues all over the Union as the coarsest crime possible. The most imminent danger is the avalanche of new books and pamphlets on the subject of alcohol.

The value of alcohol should not be estimated or supposed, but studied and demonstrated. A prohibition movement kept up by '400,000 women' is no proof. Nor are 600 Congressmen capable of deciding a scientific problem, though fortified by a caucus."

He then goes on to state some of the conditions in which he, at 87 years of age, thinks alcohol is useful. The article in the Times closes thus:

"A moderate quantity of alcohol may actually take the place in nutrition of a dynamically equivalent quantity of fat or of sugar. Were it not possessed of other qualities, the food value of alcohol would, therefore, be measured by its full caloric value. But, unlike foodstuffs more strictly defined, alcohol exerts effects as a drug which cannot be ignored in appraising its value as a food. These effects become more important when the individual is called upon to do strenuous work or to endure exposure. * * * The records of American industrial experience are significant in showing a better output where no alcohol is taken by the workmen.

"There is little need to decide how far these effects are purely physical, or to what degree they are psychological. The facts show that the value of alcohol as a source of maintenance and of work-power for the nation cannot, as in the case of a normal foodstuff be legitimately measured by its gross caloric value."

"The following is added as a memorable historical fact. In The Evening Mail of July 27, 1917, I met with the following lines:

"Unrest and even strikes have been caused in different parts of England because of a demand by the workmen for an increased quantity of beer. As a result, the output of munitions has been lowered, and the conduct of the war interfered with. The Government has decided to permit the brewing of more beer.

"Let this be enough for today!"

There is here quite a bit of significance of one kind or another relating to the topic which many have been (and still are?) discussing.

This day, like most of my readers, it is likely, I have received from a "specialist in bonds for physicians and druggists" (what kind of bonds is not specified) a circular offering for a mere bagatelle of five dollars to secure for me my permit for the prescription use of my six quarts each year of non-beverage distilled spirits. He is serving already, he says, "nine thousand users of non-beverage spirits."

This printed letter reads as follows:—"How New Prohibition Law Effects (sic) Doctors.

No doctor is permitted to write prescriptions for liquor UNLESS HE HOLDS A PERMIT ISSUED BY THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT, permitting him so to do.

No druggist is allowed to fill any prescriptions for intoxicating liquors UNLESS THE PRESCRIPTION IS WRITTEN BY A DOCTOR WHO HOLDS A UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT PERMIT.

Doctors are entitled to Six (6) Quarts of liquor per annum for emergency use, but, IN ORDER TO SECURE THIS SIX (6) QUARTS OF LIQUOR THEY MUST FIRST SECURE A GOVERNMENT PERMIT.

If you want the privilege of writing prescriptions for spirits for medical use of your patients, you must secure your permit from the United States Government.

If you want to secure your allowance of six (6) quarts of liquor per annum, you must first secure a permit from the United States Government.

I KNOW THE LAW.

I will prepare all documents, ready for your signature, so you will have nothing to do but sign your name!!!

REMEMBER

You cannot buy any liquor for medicinal purposes, UNLESS YOU HAVE A GOVERNMENT PERMIT, and, you cannot prescribe UNLESS YOU HAVE A PERMIT TO PRESCRIBE.

You know how important it is that you have some brandy or whiskey available for emergency use.

The quickest and easiest way for you to secure your permit is to fill in the information called for on the reverse side of this letter and send it to me.

Yours very truly."

On the envelope in big "red type" one is caught with this: "What the U. S. Government allows you to do. I know the law. I will do everything but sign your name."

There certainly ought to be some proper clinical use of alcohol, something very important for mankind, indeed, to thus interest a gentleman in Missouri (already "shown," this time, by at least 9000 cases) in the advancement of medical learning and of clinical experience neither faulty nor pernicious.

But it remains, none the less, in a mind here and there among us 150,000 doctors, a matter of appetite versus therapeutics—with the stress on the implied inconsistency of the two.

GEORGE VAN NESS DEARBORN.

Applicants must submit with their applications their unmounted photographs, taken within two years, with their names written thereon. Proofs or group photographs will not be accepted. Photographs will not be returned to applicants.

R.

Applicants should be properly executed, including the medical certificate but excluding the county officer's certificate, and filed with the Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C., without delay.

An act of Congress approved July 11, 1919, provides:

"That hereafter in making appointments to clerical and other positions in the Executive branch of the Government in the District of Columbia or elsewhere preference shall be given to honorably discharged soldiers, sailors, and marines, and widows of such, and to the wives of injured soldiers, sailors, and marines who themselves are not qualified but whose wives are qualified to hold such positions."

Applicants entitled to preference should attach to their applications their original discharge, or a photostat copy, or certified copy thereof, or their official record of service, which will be returned after inspection by the Commission.
